

IF MY EYES WERE BLIND – (by David Olney)

An all-time favorite love song; written by and in tribute to my late friend, David Olney

If my eyes were blind
The darkest night would never hold a mystery
if my eyes were blind
I'd hold your features fast within my memory
Within my mind.... If my eyes were blind

Should my voice grow weak
Only you could hear the voice inside me
Should my voice grow weak
Never with the word would I deny thee
I would not speak.... Should my voice grow weak

Should my mind grow dim
And innocent as on the day God made me
Should my mind grow dim
I'd love you like a child or a baby
I'd be gentle as a lamb.... Should my mind grow dim

When my youth is gone
In my eyes you shall remain a beauty
When my youth is gone
In my ears I'll hear you singing sweetly
The sweetest song.... When my youth is gone

When my body dies
Darlin' I could never leave you lonely
My spirit shall arise
To comfort and to care for you only
To sympathize.... When my body dies
