

JUST ANOTHER FOOL IN LOVE      Lyrics and music © Jack Williams

He ain't blind, but he can't see.
He ain't chained up, but he ain't free.
When a man gets to feelin' like
He just can't get enough,
He's just another fool...
Just another fool in love.

He ain't dumb, but he can't talk.
He ain't lame, but he can barely walk.
The look on his face tells you
More than enough.
He's just another fool.
Just another fool in love.

She's a heartbreaker, And he's got it bad.
He says that she's the first real
Woman he ever had.
It's a hard thing to learn
That time brings love enough,
When you're just another fool...
Just another fool in love.

He's just like all my other friends,
He burns up the means just to fry the ends.
He's full of fire below, but so hollow above.
He's just another fool...
Just another fool in love.

It's a hard thing to learn
That time brings love enough,
When you're just another fool...
Just another fool..
Just another fool in love.
