

NO LONGER HEADED NOWHERE

Lyrics and music © Jack Williams

I confess my obsession,
I relinquish all control,
I throw caution to the wind
And lay bare my awkward soul.
I'll put down all the tools of my trade,
And make good all the promises I've made.

I've gone face to face with demons,
Rejected angry ghosts.
I've rattled the bones of devils past,
The ones I feared the most.
I will lay all my secrets open wide,
Till the past will have nothing left to hide.

CHORUS

I'm coming to a place I've only dreamed about.
I've turned away from anger and despair.
This could be the hardest road I've traveled, babe,
But I'm no longer headed nowhere...
I would never have found you there.

All my labors now are pleasures.
All my fears are tinkertoys.
You offered me the future
With forgiveness in your voice.
I have come to believe in myself,
And I know you believe in me as well.
