

WATERBUG Lyrics and music © Jack Williams

Big old frog below my feet,
Lookin' for somethin' small to eat.
I never paid no mind till when
He ate me whole and I'm gone again.
I never paid no mind till when
He ate me whole and I'm gone again... gone again.

Things been goin' bad to worse
For the center of my universe.
I can't hear the truth be said,
Livin' alone inside my head.
I can't hear the truth be said,
Livin' alone inside my head.

CHORUS I'm the waterbug. A shallow man.
The waterbug don't want to know
'Bout trouble in the water down below.

You got a life I never knew.
I never looked inside of you.
I confess that all these years
I never liked to see your tears.
I confess that all these years
I never liked to see your tears...no tears.

There's a big old world - now I see
The daffodil and the bumblebee.
I wonder who coulda made this bone,
The DNA and the pheromone.
I wonder who coulda made this bone,
The DNA and the pheromone.

CHORUS I got a line and I got a pole.
One is a lie and it burns my soul.
That pole is hooked inside my brain.
In a shallow pool I shall remain.
That pole is hooked inside my brain.
In a shallow pool I shall remain.

CHORUS (add last time) Skimmin' along all over the land.
